WATER PUMP OPERATION FUNCTION

The perfect temperature in a water cooled engine is provided by a system that circulates coolant through the engine block water jacket and radiator. The water pump is the mechanism that maintain the constant flow of coolant. In most cases, the water pump is driven by a belt pulley system, where the pulley receives power from engine's drive belt, timing belt, fan belt.

MECHANISM STRUCTURE AND COMPONENTS

The mechanism structure is comprised of the following components :

- HUB
- SHAFT BEARING
- BODY
- MECHANICAL SEAL
- IMPELER

The rotation of the engine is transmitted through the pulley which is attached to the hub, it makes the impeller rotate through the bearing and the mechanical seal. The role of the impeller is to drive coolant into the water jacket using centrifugal force which makes coolant circulate.

The body of water pump is equipped with a vapor hole and weep hole. The vapor hole relieves excess gas pressure seeping through the mechanical seal. The weep hole bleeds off excess coolant seeping through the mechanical seal. This two holes function as a safety mechanism to protect the shaft and the bearing from contamination.

HANDLING INSTRUCTION

Before installation do not DRY turn the water pump pulley manually, it will cause in the mechanical seal soft carbon block may create residue on the ceramic block and generate abnormal noises during operation.

It is recommended that water pump lower level is submerged in coolant for 3 minutes before the installation. This will prevent the abnormal noises from being generated.

INSTALLATION INSTRUCTIONS

1. Flush the radiator with clean water approximately 2~3 minutes while the engine idle, this step will remove scale, rust residue and sludge form the coolant system and protect new water pump mechanical seal from contaminating.
2. After engine is cooled drain the water and remove old water pump, gasket and other materials left on the mounting surface. This step will prevent leakage from the surface.
3. When installation need sealant , apply with even amount around the water pump, clean off the excess sealant and prevents the sealant intrude into the water pump channel. This step will prevent the sealant for damage the mechanical seal.
4. Install the fan belt, timing belt, coolant and other parts specified by manufacturer specification, prevents other abnormal noises , leakage and failure of incorrect installation.

WATER PUMP TROUBLESHOOTING

WEEP HOLE LEAKAGE

The weep hole function is to protect bearing from contamination damage into the water pump. In normal operation around weep hole will appear small dried coolant residue, If coolant leakage it will appear bigger dried coolant traces and coolant level will decrease within a month.

Abnormal coolant leakage

Cause

The mechanical seal already damaged by contamination as sludge reducing sealing performance.

Prevention

1. Flush the cooling system with clean water 2~3 minutes with idle engine.
2. Replace new coolant with manufacture specifications and replace coolant regularly.
3. Use correct coolant mixture and fluid level.
4. Avoid to use sealant when gaskets supplied.

WATER PUMP TROUBLESHOOTING

OTHER ABNORMAL PROBLEM CAUSING LEAKAGE

There have other several factor also will caused water pump leakage ,such as corrosion of coolant, unevenly tightened bolts, excess sealant, etc.

Corrosion of coolant

Unevenly tightened bolts

Cause

1. Excess sealant will intrude into water pump channel and damage the mechanical seal.
2. Over tightened unevenly on mounting bolt , it will cause fracture on the body crack and leakage.
3. Installation gasket with over sealant, it will cause gasket performance degraded.
4. Unclean / contamination on mounting surface.
5. Coolant pH value 7.5 causing corrosion effect.

Prevention

6. Use only manufacturer specified sealant and coolant.
7. Do not use over sealant when gasket supplied.
8. When installation apply with specified by manufacturer instructions.
9. Clean surface contaminations before installation.
10. Do not re use old gaskets.

WATER PUMP TROUBLESHOOTING

OVERHEATING

Overheating will cause impeller corrosion, fracture of bearing and internal corrosion of the body.

Coolant degradation / Corrosion

Cause

1. Using recycle coolant or un-identified coolant composition.
2. Corrosion due to coolant deterioration.
3. Internal flushing the radiator.
4. pH value below 7.5 turn into formic acid.
5. Weather condition cause coolant frozen.

Prevention

1. Do not use recycle coolant or other composition.
2. Replace coolant regularly according manufacturer specs.
3. Fully flush with clean water 2~3 minutes with idle engine.
4. Replace coolant with specified mixture and fluid level.
5. Use coolant with specific type for cold area climate.
6. Maintain coolant pH level around 7.5~9.0.

WATER PUMP TROUBLESHOOTING

ABNORMAL NOISES BY INCORRECTLY INSTALLATION DAMAGED FAN COUPLING

- Rumbling sound when manually turning the pulley.
- Contamination of the pulley seat.
- Scratches and flecks found around the bearing during disassembly.
- Strike shaft when installation.
- Fracture on the water pump body casing or bearing.

Cause

1. Bearing fracture caused by excess belt tension or due to excess vibrations caused by misalignment of parts.
2. Unevenly over tightened bolts caused bearing failure.
3. Incorrect installation by un-experience mechanic.
4. Damaged fan coupling or fan coupling is not installed correctly.
5. Excessive vibration from unbalance installation.

Prevention

1. When installation tightened bolt according manufacturer specification.
2. Reused fan coupling pulley need run out with dial indicator.
3. Old ages vehicle or high mileage replace fan coupling pulley before Installation.
4. Check the bearing is lubed and free of any contamination.
5. Replace new fan coupling when installation.

ENGINE'S COOLANT PH VALUE

The most popular choice of coolant type has always been a mixture of ethylene glycol and water, with the ethylene glycol containing selected and specific inhibitors. While coolant is needed to remove heat in all internal combustion engines regardless of the type of fuel used, a regular control of the coolant solution is required to prevent the engine from severe damage.

Frequent engine repair and failure can be traced to improper or non-existent engine cooling water treatment. rust, scale and deterioration of seals are the result of improper or no treatment in the cooling system.

From the time the coolant is introduced into any type of engine it starts a gradual degradation process into corrosive acids. This degradation is a function of time, temperature and the types of metals used in the engine and components construction. Once the coolant turns acidic all engine metals start to dissolve. The results are leaking water pump and overheat.

Most automotive manufactures provide in the vehicle manual information about the suggested mileage or time to change the coolant. How ever it is important, because of the different climate and operative conditions, to measure the pH of the coolant every time the vehicle is at a scheduled service.

Extensive testing has shown that a coolant pH bellow 7.5 pH is not acceptable for use in engines due the its corrosive nature. The correct pH value should be maintained between 7.5~9.0 ph. Bellow 7.5 pH it is advisable to flush the cooling system and refill with a new coolant solution.
